Harnessing the full potential of Tertiary Forest Education Globally

Thursday, 5th of May 2022, 10:00-11:30

Get to know the key findings and recommendations of the largest global forest education study to date and the latest digital innovations in forest education. A panel of experts and key stakeholders in tertiary forest education will discuss local and indigenous knowledge in tertiary education.

Moderator: Daniel Boehnke, IUFRO Headquarters

Speakers: Gerardo Segura Warnholtz; Mika Rekola; Sheam Satkuru; Panel Members

Agenda

1. Welcome by Gerardo Segura Warnholtz, FAO

2. Presentation of the Global Report on Forest Education – Mika Rekola, University of Helsinki

3. Digital Innovations in Forest Education
   - Online course on Legal and Sustainable Supply Chains (LSSC) – Sheam Satkuru, ITTO
   - forestra – the Online Platform for Forest Education* - Daniel Boehnke, IUFRO

4. Panel discussion: *Recognising local and indigenous knowledge in tertiary education needs
   - The broader perspective on tertiary education – Bernard Combes, UNESCO
   - Curricula from the teachers' perspective – Sandra Rodriguez, Universidad Autonoma de Chihuahua
   - Curricula from the students' perspective – Annie Biju, Joint Task Force on Forest Education
   - Linking tertiary education with local knowledge and needs – Maria Noel Ngoddo, RECOFTC
   - Recognising needs of local communities and producers in tertiary education – Glenn Galloway, University of Florida

5. Further interaction between the audience and the panel

6. Closing remarks by Sheam Satkuru, ITTO

forestra

LSSC ONLINE COURSE