

INDONESIA PAVILION IN UNFCCC COP-26

ITTO-IPB-FFPRI event for COP 26: Prevention of forest fires in the tropics: lessons from Indonesia and elsewhere

Date: Thursday, 11 November 2021 at 16:40-18:00 Glasgow, UK (local time)
Hybrid event: INDONESIA PAVILION IN UNFCCC COP-26 and virtual access

This event will promote cooperation and synergies among stakeholders to support the effective implementation of the MoEF-ITTO forest fire project in South Sumatera and Central and South Kalimantan in Indonesia, as well as the SERFOR-ITTO forest fire project in Peru. It will increase networking and promote research and capacity building to prevent and combat forest fires in the tropics.

Schedule

Moderator: Ms Sheam Satkuru, Director of Operations, ITTO

Time	Speaker	Subject
16:40-16:55 (15 min)	Ms Laksmi Dhewanthi, DG of Climate Change, Ministry of Environment and Forestry (MoEF), Indonesia (TBC)	Forest and land fire policy development in Indonesia
16:55-17:10 (15 min)	Proferssor Bambang Hero Saharjo, Faculty of Forestry, Bogor Agricultural University (IPB), Bogor, Indonesia	Forest fires and climate change in Indonesia
17:10-17:20 (10 min)	Dr Yasumasa Hirata, Principal Research Director, REDD+ R&D Center, FFPRI, Japan	Forest fires and REDD+
17:20-17:28 (8 min)	Ms Elvira Gomez Rivero, DG, General Directorate of Information and Forest and Wildlife Management, Peru's National Forest and Wildlife Service (Servicio Na- cional Forestal y de Fauna Silvestre) (SERFOR),, Peru	Forest fire prevention and response in Peru
17:28-17:40	Mr Sihol Parulian Aritonang, President Director, PT Riau Andalan Pulp and Paper, Indonesia	Integrated forest fire management practices in plantation forests in Indonesia
17:40-18:00	Q&A

The event is open to participation by forest fire stakeholders, from policymakers to practitioners, working in government departments, academic institutions, non-government organizations, international organizations and the private sector.

For more details and registration: (TBC)

Indonesian pavilion site: <https://indonesiaunfccc.com/sessions-in-glasgow/>

Organizers

International Tropical Timber Organization (ITTO) in collaboration with the Bogor Agricultural University (IPB), Indonesia and the Forestry and Forest Products Research Institute (FFPRI), Japan